Profile

I am first year bachelor student and I am looking for internship, that intersects with my interests and skills.

Education:

2016 – Present  Innopolis University. Bachelor degree. Computer science.

2015 - 2016      Siberian State University of Telecommunications and Information Sciences(Novosibirsk). Computer Science.

2012 – 2014 Central Asian economic technical college. Pre-bachelor degree. Computer Science.

Skills:

1. Programming Languages: C++, Java.
2. Game engines: Basic knowledge of Unreal Engine 4.
3. Other game development skills: Basic knowledge of game design, procedure level generation (cellular automaton, Hilbert curve), materials in games, basic AI algorithms (Monte Carlo tree).
4. Skills on team-work software: I can work with github and trello for team projects.
5. Personality: non-contentious, get along with teammates, have experience as a team leader in academic project. Good at learning something new.
6. Other skills: Have experience in video montage. I do parkour.

Projects I am working on now:

1. PC parkour game. Successor of famous game Playman Extreme Running (it was game for old telephones with buttons). Project is developed for DevGamm Moscow Conference (May 18).
2. Table board game "Monopolis" (not the final name). Game about studying, teaching and just about life in one IT city Monopolis.

The reasons why I want to be involved in projects from your laboratory:

1. The game design and game development in general it's the most interesting theme for me. Especially game and level design and AI in game development.
2. I think that in your projects I will improve my skills, gain new knowledge, and communicate with people that are interested in the same ideas that I am.
3. The knowledge, that I will gain, I will be able to use in my projects.
4. My main purpose at the moment is to learn new things for my next step. With big bag of knowledge, I can choose sphere regarding to the game development, which will be primary for me.
